

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN

VOLUME XLIV.—NO. 6.

ENGLISH

Propaganda as Exploited by Admiral Sims, Now in Big Naval Row.

Noted Naval Writer and Ex-Service Man Gives Version of America's Part.

Classes Sims as Tool of English Politicians and a Dope of Royalty.

NO TROUBLE WITH THE IRISH.

James M. Connolly, the noted writer of naval stories, who spent eight months with the American naval forces abroad during the war, comments as follows on Admiral Sims and British propaganda:

"Our navy, according to Admiral Sims, was something of a slacker during the war. Too bad, of course, and yet, as a Britishborn, shouldn't Sims be more grateful? Only for that slacker navy of ours there would be no British Empire today, and with no British Empire and its dire needs there would be no Sims."

It was at a banquet in London in 1910 that Sims arose and said that he, a Captain in the United States navy, could assure all present in the event of this war which could not be much longer postponed that England's great hacker would be the United States. They need have no fear when the time came—America's last man, last dollar, last pound of steel would be at England's call. This started something. Sims was reprimanded—not too severely—by Washington. Other naval officers wished that somebody would get up a little manual on professionalism for the shouting Sims type—either that or choke 'em before they got to the third class, and the laity wanted to know who was this new politician in their navy, and so on. Sims got it right and left, but he knew what he was saying and why he said it. The English propaganda was going good then. There was a German propaganda, too, but as against the force of the British it was a little pocket of a great river. Students, sportsmen, old men, and military men rate Tommie at first class, but of a dub on the firing line, but of one flimflam. Least job of propagandas in the world's history, that put out by England prior to and just after our entry into the war.

Sims knew what he was doing. Men who could tell him better than anybody in the world just what effect England's propaganda would finally have in this country were right there at that dinner in London while Sims was talking, and Sims was making no mistake. All over the British world that speech was quoted, and the name of Sims established as the one American naval officer who could be depended upon to play England's game when the time came. And when the time came and English influence put him where he could play it, he played it. And he is playing it right now when he is depreciating the work of our navy in the war, because say we did the less is to prove that England did the more. Six months before we were drawn into the war they were licked, and were hanging on by their toes till we got going, and yet when our fellows went over there they heard on all sides: "Now that we've won the war the Yankees 'ave come."

Was it any wonder that wherever any of our fellows were camped, the British Isles took a look around and began to "smile" and "titter"? England, while the armistice was pending, Sims gave our figures tinted with that same spirit with which he is now depreciating the work of our navy in the war. He gave out figures in London in October, 1918, to show how many millions of troops the British escorted safely to France. Great; across the narrow British Channel, with a solid line both sides to protect them. We took three thousand miles stretch with U-boats working both sides without touching a man. Two hundred and odd of our soldiers were lost on the Tuscania, but she was under a British, not an American, escort. Sims gave out figures to show that we were beholden to British ships for getting 60 per cent. of our men across. (Incidentally, they put in a bill for $160 per man for that service.) The glory of Britain is the game. And every rattling of what we did in the war is a magnification of what Britain did. And Britain having done it all, why should she not by and grab all she cares to grab? Why not? Hasn't she earned it? And, planted away in nearly all our big dailies and many of our periodicals, are advocates of that idea. And they are the one biggest menace to Americanism today. With them it is the knife—sometimes openly, sometimes from out of the dark, for whoever dares to advocate otherwise. Hallelujah, hallelujah for those who are right. And so, to hell with the American navy! To hell with the American prestige! All up for the Empire! Hallelujah for the Simses!"

Five months after our first destroyer steamed into Queenstown forty-eight American bluejackets had taken out licenses to marry Queenstown girls, which is pretty good going for a small force in a few weeks. Gobs of them could be seen waving. Simses were all so strong for the Sinn Feiners. It may have been they wanted to show that they had no use for the "Limeys." They had no use for the "Limeys."

SUCCESS

Parishes Report Splendid Progress in Campaign for Visitation Home.

Ladies Canvas the Business Section and Are Enthusiastic With the Results.

Many Non-Catholics Are Sending in Generous Subscriptions Without Solicitation.

MASS MEETING MONDAY NIGHT.

There was but little mixing it up in Queenstown between our gobs and the British sailors, the Limies not being in sufficient numbers there to give battles; but elsewhere, with the British predominating, there were constant mixups. Our gobs may have brought but they didn't use knives in fist fights; and more than one of our fellows was found in the gutter with a knife in his back. The "Limey" about as well as the American doughboy loved the British Tommy—ask any doughboy how well that is—but according to Sims our fellows and their fellows were the liveliest ever.

Propaganda always, and Sims always on that job. The British gang of politicians, who were running the British Empire, had every now and then to prove to the public that their selections for big jobs were great men.

ARCHBISHOP SUBSCRIBES.

The Friends of Irish Freedom National Bureau of Information has made public a communication just received by President De Valera from Archbishop J. M. Hart, of the Archdiocese of Cashel, in which the distinguished Irish prelate expresses his opinion of British attempts to rule Ireland and enclosed his check for fifty pounds as a contribution to the Irish national loan. The letter follows:

"My Dear De Valera: To you, the trusted representative of the Irish people I send my hearty thanks for your offer of fifty pounds as my contribution to the Irish national loan. Here at home the British Government has continued to trample on the principles of democracy. Ireland is in a state of political bondage. Our press is muzzled. Our fairs and markets are stopped. Our exhibitions of industries are prohibited. Our national games are banned. Our literary and musical festivals are proclaimed heretical. The Church is persecuted to guarantee that they are not criminals before they are allowed to use their motor cars. The British Government proposes to place Irish education under the domination of foreign reactionaries who are out of sympathy with the national ideals of the Irish people. Sinn Fein, the Gaelic League and kindred societies are suppressed, and the lie is told that they are responsible for crimes. Our boys are armed by armed forces of the British. Our streets are paraded by a huge army of occupation. These we need have no fear when the time comes—America's last man, last dollar, last pound of steel would be at England's call. This started something. Sims was reprimanded—not too severely—by Washington. Other naval officers wished that somebody would get up a little manual on professionalism for the shouting Sims type—either that or choke 'em before they got to the third class, and the laity wanted to know who was this new politician in their navy, and so on. Sims got it right and left, but he knew what he was saying and why he said it. The English propaganda was going good then. There was a German propaganda, too, but as against the force of the British it was a little pocket of a great river. Students, sportsmen, old men, and military men rate Tommie at first class, but of a dub on the firing line, but of one flimflam. Least job of propagandas in the world's history, that put out by England prior to and just after our entry into the war.

Sims knew what he was doing. Men who could tell him better than anybody in the world just what effect England's propaganda would finally have in this country were right there at that dinner in London while Sims was talking, and Sims was making no mistake. All over the British world that speech was quoted, and the name of Sims established as the one American naval officer who could be depended upon to play England's game when the time came. And when the time came and English influence put him where he could play it, he played it. And he is playing it right now when he is depreciating the work of our navy in the war, because say we did the less is to prove that England did the more. Six months before we were drawn into the war they were licked, and were hanging on by their toes till we got going, and yet when our fellows went over there they heard on all sides:

"Now that we've won the war the Yankees 'ave come."

Was it any wonder that wherever any of our fellows were camped, the British Isles took a look around and began to "smile" and "titter"? England, while the armistice was pending, Sims gave out figures tinted with that same spirit with which he is now depreciating the work of our navy in the war. He gave out figures in London in October, 1918, to show how many millions of troops the British escorted safely to France. Great; across the narrow British Channel, with a solid line both sides to protect them. We took three thousand miles stretch with U-boats working both sides without touching a man. Two hundred and odd of our soldiers were lost on the Tuscania, but she was under a British, not an American, escort. Sims gave out figures to show that we were beholden to British ships for getting 60 per cent. of our men across. (Incidentally, they put in a bill for $160 per man for that service.) The glory of Britain is the game. And every rattling of what we did in the war is a magnification of what Britain did. And Britain having done it all, why should she not by and grab all she cares to grab? Why not? Hasn't she earned it? And, planted away in nearly all our big dailies and many of our periodicals, are advocates of that idea. And they are the one biggest menace to Americanism today. With them it is the knife—sometimes openly, sometimes from out of the dark, for whoever dares to advocate otherwise. Hallelujah, hallelujah for those who are right. And so, to hell with the American navy! To hell with the American prestige! All up for the Empire! Hallelujah for the Simses!"

At the meeting of Trinity Council, Y. M. L. Monday evening John F. Donnelly, a member of the A. E. F., delivered an address on his experiences in France with our army. Mr. Donnelly held his audience spellbound for over an hour, his address brimming over with humor and pathos, and he was given a rousing vote of thanks by those present, who unite in saying that the lecture was one of the most brilliant ever heard in Trinity's walls.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

At the meeting of Trinity Council, Y. M. L. Monday evening John F. Donnelly, a member of the A. E. F., delivered an address on his experiences in France with our army. Mr. Donnelly held his audience spellbound for over an hour, his address brimming over with humor and pathos, and he was given a rousing vote of thanks by those present, who unite in saying that the lecture was one of the most brilliant ever heard in Trinity's walls.

CANONIZATION.

Rev. Father Alphonsus Krulup, C. P., rector of Sacred Heart Preceptory, received a letter from the Provincial telling him that May 13 was the date decided on for the canonization in Rome of Bl. St. Gerard, Bl. Margaret Mary Alacoque, and Joan of Arc. Immediately after the canonization the general chapter of the Passionists will be convened in Rome to elect a Master General, this occurring every six years.

REFORM

Only a Sham With Hert Machine, as the Churchmen's Federation Discovers.

Home Telephone Gouge Meets Opposition and Near Mayor Still Dumb.

The Thrilling Episode of Officer Pearl of the Keystone Police.

COL. PETTY GETS PEEVED.

all times. Little by little the good turn habit becomes ingrained in his daily conduct and mental attitude, and so an essential element of his character. There are 364,226 Boy Scouts of America in the United States, and all more or less consciously acquiring the good turn habit. It requires no argument to convince anyone that these boys will be better citizens and the nation a better nation because of the teachings of boy scouting.

RECENT DEATHS.

Sunday afternoon Miss Laura O'Mara, aged sixty-eight, passed to her eternal reward at her home, 647 South Twenty-fourth street. Her funeral took place Tuesday morning at St. Charles church.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church over the remains of Miss Catherine Tepe, who resided at 1202 West Market. She is survived by two brothers, George and Joseph Tepe, the latter of Chicago, and a sister, Mrs. Lew Geddel, of Galesburg, Ill.

Tuesday morning the funeral of Mrs. Mary T. Wahl, 1061 East Kentucky street, was held from Holy Trinity church attended by many mourning relatives and neighbors. Surviving her are three sons, George, Joseph and Henry Wahl, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles Seidenfaden and Miss Elizabeth Wahl.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Anna May Ketteringham were held Sunday afternoon at St. Charles church. She is survived by her husband, Maurice Ketteringham, three sisters, Mrs. Anna Stael and Mrs. Nellie T. Mooney, and two brothers, J. Edward and Robert H. Mooney, besides her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mooney, 2342 West Chestnut street.

Mondays morning the funeral of Miss Mary Gathof, who was widely known and held in high esteem in Catholic society circles, was held from St. Louis Bertrand church, attended by many relatives and friends.

The Ladies' Committee took charge of the business district on Wednesday, and they will also canvass the factories the last of the week.

The Speakers' Committee are sending ten minute men wherever there is a call to explain the need for a new Visitation Home, and their appeal so far proved a success on each occasion. Booths will be opened at down town stores and banks during the week, each booth being in charge of a committee of ladies.

The campaign has been given the highest support everywhere, many non-Catholics sending in their subscriptions uncollected. Rev. Dr. Hallieck, in charge of St. Ambrose Episcopal church on East Burnett street, spoke in favor of the home at both services last Sunday.

Friends and relatives were deeply grieved Saturday when Death's angel called Mrs. Anna Naughton, beloved wife of Timothy J. Naughton, 918 South Preston street, died suddenly. She was an exemplary woman and was admired for her kind disposition and her devotion to her church and her friends, who will miss her from their circle. Her funeral took place Tuesday from St. Paul's church, Rev. Father Donohoe celebrating the requiem mass.

The death of Mrs. Anna Naughton, 918 South Preston street, was doubly bereaved by death this week, when John Murphy, aged six years, and the beloved wife and mother, Annie Powell Murphy, were called into eternal rest. The double funeral took place Thursday morning from St. Patrick's church. Deceased was the daughter of Mrs. Nora Potter, 2025 Lytle street, and was held in high respect in the West End, where her life had been spent.

Carl Vincent Schmitt, aged thirty-one, tanner at the Bank of Kentucky and prominent as a member of the men's societies of St. Anthony's church, succumbed Sunday morning to pneumonia at the residence of his father-in-law, A. W. Schmitt, 4507 Western Parkway. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Helen Schmitt; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Schmitt; two brothers, John and Otto Schmitt, and three sisters, Misses Marie, Elizabeth and Rosa Schmitt. The funeral services were held Tuesday morning with requiem mass.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.

Monday night the Columbia Athletic Club, recognized as one of the most popular and progressive among men's organizations in Louisville, will elect its Board of Directors, from whom the officers for 1920 will be chosen. Thirty names have been placed on the ticket, and the interest taken assures an interesting and exciting meeting. The club owns a commodious three-story home on East St. Catherine street, and report of President Ben Beckmann shows another very promising.

FRIENDS OF FREEDOM.

The regular monthly meeting of Robert Emmet Branch, Friends of Irish Freedom, will be held in St. Louis Bertrand Hall, 1112 South Sixth street, next Tuesday night, and all who favor self-determination and freedom for Erin are urged to be present and bring their friends. Col. P. H. Callahan, who has been closely associated with Chairman Frank Walsh and other leaders in behalf of the Irish republic, will be present at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen protesting strenuously against this holdup of the public.

The week previous the lower board swallowed without a dissenting voice the proposed raise in telephone rates and none questioned the wisdom of near Mayor Smith in tearing up an eighteen month's contract with the Home Telephone Company.

When asked why the Home Telephone Company in prosperous circumstances needed a raise in rates, The public would like to know who hypothesized the members of the lower board, and are watching to see what influence that mysterious someone in the background will have on the members of the Board of Aldermen protesting this holdup of the public.

A public hearing will be held on February 24 and the public will be invited to speak. The hearing is up against near Mayor Smith refuses to explain why the prosperous Home Telephone Company should be allowed to gouge the public, and the Kentucky Irish American is the only publication in Louisville, daily or weekly, that has protested against the holdup.

"Full many a pearl of purest ray serene is born to blush unseen and waste its sweetness on the desert air."

The above quotation does not apply to the work of our Keystone police department, as events of the past week proved. Officer Pearl showed that he was not born to blush unseen nor was he wasting his sweetness on the desert air, as the neighbors of Twelfth and Market can testify. This leading light of the Republican reform administration pulled off a thriller Sunday night that made Doug Fairbanks, Bill Hart and the rest of the rough house stars look like pokers. Patrolman Pearl in his little playful way dragged a girl by the hair of the head down two flights of stairs and out into the public square. Incidentally the girl was name Pearl Smith and at the start of her name-sake's little frolic was clad only in a nightgown. Sad to relate, at the end of the race Sad to relate, the girl was near a manhole and added to the thrilling part of the "Keystoners' Mad Rambles" our heroic policeman fired his pistol off five times, some saying he was trying to shoot out the electric light. The end of reel two shows Officer Pearl, assisted by a squad of his fellow Keystoners, taking his captive to jail.

Episode three is laid in the office of the Chief of Police, and Night Chief is featured with Officer Pearl and the other members of his background showing the squad of Keystoners who assisted the wounded cop in dragging the girl to jail. Night Chief Laird was recently in the public view by playing the headline part in the Shawnee Park murder case. After spending a plump of the taxpayers' funds with a costly court trial, etc., Laird CAME NEAR convicting a deaf mute of the murder. In this second Peart he takes the accused Keystoners' revolver, and though he does not discover that it had been fired, and this has been the daily excuse since of Chief Petty that he didn't know all about the trouble because Laird or no one else told him that five shots had been fired. The closing scene shows our hero Laird constituting himself as a judge, jury and everything else by rubbing the names of the arrested Louisianian "reform" administrators with a cloth and then to keep up the "reform" atmosphere, he says, "I am a criminal, but I am a good man." The closing scene shows our hero Laird constituting himself as a judge, jury and everything else by rubbing the names of the arrested Louisianian "reform" administrators with a cloth and then to keep up the "reform" atmosphere, he says, "I am a criminal, but I am a good man."

Col. Petty, Chief of the Keystoners, was not at all pleased with the Pearl performance, especially the part played by someone claiming a warrant for the old and woolly Keystoner in Soule O'Brien's court. Perhaps Col. Petty will explain why this was petty politics, as he terms it. One would hardly expect justice from an office where names are rubbed off the slate and the news kept from the newspapers, the story only leaking out when the warrant was sworn out in the Magistrate's court. Chief Petty's office was given out the news of the arrest of the Keystoners' leader, and the Chief of Police was on vacation. Nor does he explain why Pearl took his vacation at this time, which is not a vacation time in the police department. Dr. Sampey, president of the Baptist Seminary, Dr. Lockhart E. Powell, pastor of the First Christian church, and Helm Bruce, one of near Mayor Smith's chief supporters and boosters for the Republican candidate, were present at the trial.

All of these men supported near Mayor Smith and Morrow for Governor because of the reform and beautiful principles advocated by Boss Hert's party. But what a sad awakening for these good and holy men. "Howdy Ed" didn't meet them at the train as might have been expected, nor were they invited to come and get his aid in opposing the wicked racing game. Neither Hart nor Deary, his son, Friday, an uninvited guest, produced the contestants and reformers to the leaders of the Legislature, and in plain words they received a "frost." Near Mayor Smith, who used to denounce racing, wasn't in the delegation. The Bingam press didn't publish any commendatory editorials of the visit of the good men, and this remarkable situation is caused by the fact that Boss Hert and his cronies Bingam are now big stockholders in the Kentucky race tracks. In other words, he is trying to support a partisan judiciary and other reform movements, but steer clear of any reform that affects your own little pet wickedness.

Coupled with the grand jury's exposure of the local reform administration with the gamblers and the utter demoralization of the Kentucky police, near Mayor Smith's project of allowing the Home Telephone Company to gouge the public was even settled. The delegation of citizens representing our welfare clubs, labor organizations and Jefferson County Medican Society were at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen protesting strenuously against this holdup of the public. The week previous the lower board swallowed without a dissenting voice the proposed raise in telephone rates and none questioned the wisdom of near Mayor Smith in tearing up an eighteen month's contract with the Home Telephone Company. When asked why the Home Telephone Company in prosperous circumstances needed a raise in rates, The public would like to know who hypothesized the members of the lower board, and are watching to see what influence that mysterious someone in the background will have on the members of the Board of Aldermen protesting this holdup of the public.

A public hearing will be held on February 24 and the public will be invited to speak. The hearing is up against near Mayor Smith refuses to explain why the prosperous Home Telephone Company should be allowed to gouge the public, and the Kentucky Irish American is the only publication in Louisville, daily or weekly, that has protested against the holdup.

"Full many a pearl of purest ray serene is born to blush unseen and waste its sweetness on the desert air."

The above quotation does not apply to the work of our Keystone police department, as events of the past week proved. Officer Pearl showed that he was not born to blush unseen nor was he wasting his sweetness on the desert air, as the neighbors of Twelfth

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.

Dedicated to the Social and Moral Advancement of Irish Americans and Catholics Officially Endorsed by Ancient Order of Hibernians, Young Men's Institute and Catholic Knights of America.

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN PRINTING CO., Incorporated, Publishers
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR, SINGLE COPY 5¢
Entered at the Louisville Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

Address All Communications to the KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN, 319-321 West Liberty Street.

LOUISVILLE, KY. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1920

EASIER THAN WORK.

The Anti-Saloon Leaguers and professional prohibitionists have now turned their attention to the wicked racing game and are sending out the same stereotyped literature that was used in the campaign against liquor and personal liberty. These grafters incidentally make the same appeal for funds to fight "wicked racing" as they did against demon rum. Anything but work is their motto.

PAGE THE FEDERATION.

There have been nine murders in the past fourteen months without an arrest or conviction of the murderer under the present "reform" bunch in control of our municipal affairs, and the grand juries of the past two months without any assistance from the police have uncovered a reign of vice and crime without parallel in our local history. Yet there hasn't been a single protest from the Men's Federation or the few political preachers who guarded our morals under Democratic reign.

FACING CRITICAL PERIOD.

We are facing the most critical period in our nation's history—the time when, if we choose our rulers unwisely, we put the freedom of the republic in jeopardy. The secret forces that for their own selfish ends are working to tie this nation to the chariot wheels of Europe's international tricksters will leave no stone unturned to rig the Presidential campaign so that no matter how it turns out, their friends will be at the head of the poll. This is what the people must guard against if they would save the nation from disaster.

LOAN GOING WELL.

We have, up to date, received but few figures regarding the extent of subscriptions to the Irish loan in this country outside of New York. From what we can learn the loan is going well and it is expected to be largely overestimated. This would be a great blow to British pro-gandists in America. It would show unmistakably that the people of the United States meant what they said when they declared they were fighting to free all nations from tyranny.

Here is a nation that is being held under a tyranny worse than that of the Hohenzollerns. And that tyranny will continue as long as America tolerates it.

CARSON ROUTED.

The outstanding facts in the recent Irish elections are that, upon a basis of the total number of council members elected, the Carson Unionists are not only a minority in all Ireland, but a minority in the province of Ulster. The Carsonites have only a small margin of control in Belfast itself, where they lost 30 per cent. of their former strength. From north to south of Ireland the press returns indicate that Republican groups are in control of the overwhelming majority of the local councils.

SIGNIFICANT.

The resignation of Mr. Barnes, who represented the Labor party in Lloyd George's Coalition Cabinet, is an event of more than ordinary significance. It is undoubtedly an indication that the Coalition is at the end of its tether, for certainly Barnes would not leave his post in the Cabinet if the necessity of repairing his political fences were not a pressing one. It also shows that the Coalitionists have abandoned all hope of winning out in a new election, which can not be put off very long, and Barnes, like a wise man, chooses to resume his place in the ranks of labor as the sure step to Cabinet preferment in the near future.

IRISH DRIVE.

One of the happiest features of the future good understanding between those racial elements of our population. It also augurs well for the future of America, for it shows that those peoples have caught the spirit of American institutions and have an unshakable faith in our principles of government when they are ready to make a sacrifice to have those principles transplanted in another soil. The drive, we believe, is going away over the top, and Irishmen will not forget those who helped it along.

COMING EVENTS.

February 8-11—Catholic Art Association pictures, "The Transgressor" and "The Victim," at St. Xavier College gymnasium. Three matinees.

February 17—Mackin Council Society Club dance and reception at club house.

February 12—Leap Year dance of Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H. Locher's Hall, Twenty-sixth and Bank.

SOCIETY.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphy have arrived home after a week's visit in Chicago.

John X. Kinberger, who has been here on a visit, returned to Seattle this week.

Miss Katherine Boldrick was a recent visitor at Pewee Valley, the guest of Miss Lillian Reagan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Malone, Willow avenue, had as a guest the past week their son, Dr. John T. Malone.

Mrs. Jennie Mannix, of Jeffersonville, has returned from Danville, Ill., where she visited for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Wellendorff have returned from a two weeks' stay at French Lick and West Baden Springs.

Mrs. Louise Schuhmann has been entertaining at her home, Meadowbrook, Miss Clare Freibert, of Mid-dlesboro.

Misses Elizabeth and Ella Kustes, Highland Park, visited last week as the guests of Mrs. Taelle, on West Broadway.

Mrs. Edward P. Kehoe, of Jeffers-ville, was last week the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. Brenner, at Beckmont.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rodes, who have been with Mrs. T. B. McCabe, will move soon to Cherokee road to go to housekeeping.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Downs (nee Whalen) have returned from their summer vacation taken at the Jersey Shores, N. J.

Mrs. Nannie McKenna, of Port-land, has returned from Chicago, where she visited her son, William McKenna, and Mrs. McKenna.

The wedding of Miss Mary Catherine Fitzgerald and Jerome C. Koch will take place at St. Louis Bertrand's church next Thursday morning.

Capt. M. J. Hogan, prohibition enforcement officer for this district, has been confined to his home since Tuesday with a threatened attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Fannie Blandford and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wharton have re-turned to their homes at Springfield, after an enjoyable visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Blandford.

Antonio Gatto announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Esse Gatto, to John J. Fahey. The wedding will take place in February at St. Mary Magdalene's church.

John Lewis Schau, of Jeffersonville, and Miss Catherine Staton, of Henryville, were united in marriage Wednesday morning at St. Augustine's church, Rev. Father Halpin performing the ceremony.

Miss Mary Clines, of South Sixth street, who was threatened with pneumonia, is now out of danger and in hopes of being able to be out in a few days, news that will be welcome to her friends and admirers.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Binford announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Gertrude Binford, to Robert A. Tindal, of Lyndon. The wedding will take place the latter part of this month.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Campbell entertained her 500 club Saturday afternoon. The members are Misses Antoinette Simon, Catherine Hassel-wander, Mary Catherine Kelly, Margaret Brocar, Clara Mae Curtis, Geneva and Evelyn Clephus, Evelyn and Mary Elizabeth Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hensel an-nounce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Edna Handler, to Russell Smith, of North Carolina, which was solemnized at the rectory of St. John's church. After an extended trip to Washington, D. C., and the East, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in North Carolina.

Mrs. John Mazzoni entertained with a miscellaneous shower in honor of her niece, Miss Bessie Gatto, whose marriage to John Fahey will take place this month. Among those present were Messrs. John Fontana, G. Kirchner, Quilio Fontana, Edward Eyl, Joseph Fontana, John Gatto, Bart Repetto, John Mazzoni; Misses Bessie Fontana, Catherine Carraro, Tillie Fontana, Marie Chiappi, Mary C. Fontana, Mary Mazzoni, Helen C. Fontana, Helene Wright, Louis Eyl, Mayme C. Gatto, Bessie Gatto; Messrs. John Mazzoni, Louis A. Eyl, John J. Fahey, Edward Eyl, Jr., Joseph Fontana, Jr.

TO LOAN SHARK VICTIMS

Help Smash the Loan Shark

The Uniform Small Loan Bill (House Bill 26 and Senate Bill 16) drawn by the Russell Sage Foundation to protect the small borrower is now before the Kentucky Legislature at Frankfort.

Labor representatives admit that Kentucky money lenders violate the law and charge their victims more than 120 per cent. interest per year.

The bill makes it illegal for an unlicensed lender to charge more than six per cent. per annum on loans of $300 or less. It authorizes licensed lenders, subject to examination by the Banking Department, to charge not more than three and one-half per cent. a month on small loans of $300 or less, which means not over 35 cents a month on a loan of $10.00 and not more than 88 cents per month on a loan of $25.00 and not more than $1.75 per month on a loan of $50.00 and proportionately on larger amounts up to $300.

Opponents of the bill said Tuesday that citizens of Kentucky prefer to pay the present extortions of the money lenders rather than the small charge authorized by this bill.

WE DO NOT BELIEVE IT

Write to your Senator and Representative to work and vote for House Bill 26 and Senate Bill 16.

We have opened offices at 1515 Inter-Southern Building to help the victims of the loan shark, without any cost to them. We have employed lawyers who will serve free of charge.

Bring us all your papers and receipts or write to us. Tell us your story and we will get you out of the clutches of the loan shark free of expense.

SEE US TODAY

Kentucky Conference of Social Work
Division of Remedial Loans,

SERVICE

A delightful surprise farewell party was given in honor of Miss Florence McIntyre on Friday at her home on South Fifteenth street. Miss McIntyre is leaving for St. Camillus Academy at Corbin. Those present were Misses Aline Bronger, Alice Ely, Bo Kinniger, Mrs. Ely, Gladys Hicks, Nellie Greene, Elizabeth Manger, Mary Willis, Christine Manger, Florence McIntyre, Virginia Lee Kergan, Florence West; Messrs. James Jefferis, William Pike, William Whalen, John Veely, Harry Richardson, Moran Shaffer, Leo Logsdon, David McDanner, Edward McDanner, Lee O'Brien; Mesdames J. P. Hagan, Rod Hall, Thompson West; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McIntyre.

PROMISE FINE SERVICE.

With the new year J. J. Hannan & Son, who are well known in building circles, established themselves at 1117 East Broadway, where they are prepared to handle all kinds of plumbing and gas fitting. The mechanical department will be under the direction of Edward Hannan, one of the most experienced men in the business. The new firm will give personal attention to all orders. They will be found worthy and reliable.

WILL MAKE GOOD.

Theodore Schultheis, for many years located at Fifth and Liberty streets, has taken possession of the building at Center and Chestnut, where he will conduct a high class refreshment business in connection luncheons. Widely known in business circles and popular with all classes, in his new location he should meet with deserved success.

NEW BOWLING ENTERPRISE.

Bowling is rapidly growing in favor with the public as one of the most enterprising and healthful of sports. The Home Bowling Alleys, at Sixth and Walnut streets, have been thrown open and are now ready for public bowling, private parties and clubs. The best of service is guaranteed and a general invitation issued to all lovers of the sport to come in and enjoy a game.

Antonio Gatto announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Esse Gatto, to John J. Fahey. The wedding will take place in February at St. Mary Magdalene's church.

ACTIVE RED CROSS.

Under the direction of the American Red Cross a series of community meetings for Jefferson county is being arranged by the Home Service Section. In addition to the showing of Red Cross films, Harvey S. Williams will speak on phases of the peace-time programme of the Red Cross. The meeting will be open to the public.

The Home Service Section headquarters act as a clearing house for all Government obligations for the ex-service man, members of his family and for all soldiers, sailors and marines. The office is open daily except Sunday from 9 to 5 p. m. and Red Cross workers will be glad to assist in filing compensation claims, tell about vocational education and in fact take care of Government obligations, and also locate the missing.

KING OPTICAL COMPANY.
The King Optical Company, located at 1134 West Market street, is headquarters for the famous per-

We sell service and satisfaction as well as just merely clothes. The integrity of our wool fabrics combined with hand tailoring will please the most critical customers. Our many years of experience permit us to assure you that our clothes will meet with approval.

CUNNING LEWIS & BROTHGE
EXCLUSIVE CLOTHES SHOP

NORTHWEST CORNER THIRD AND JEFFERSON

NO RAISE IN PRICES.

The following prices are just and allow us only a fair profit

WHY PAY MORE?

Our Service and Workmanship Are A No. 1

Men's 2 Piece Suits, $1.50 Suits Pressed. Only 50¢
Men's 3 Piece Suits, $1.75 Neckties 10c each, 3 for 25¢

WE ARE RESPONSIBLE

Established Over Twenty-five Years.

Puls Cleaning and Dyeing Co.
Both Phones 2635.
We Call For and Deliver.

421 W. Chestnut St.

fect vision glasses which relieve headache, dizziness, weak eyes and other troubles, and make the use of the eyes a pleasure in reading or sewing. The eyesight specialists of this company are graduate ophthalmologists who make scientific examinations of the eyes and never fail to guarantee correct and comfortable glasses. By taking advantage of the club plan of securing glasses originated by this company, the best glasses can be obtained by a small cash deposit and the balance in monthly payments that can be easily met. Dr. Curt Krieger, formerly connected with the Krieger drug stores of this city, is in charge of the King Optical Company, of which he is making a splendid success.

THE MODERN WAY

CLEANERS AND DYERS

OFFICE AND PLANT, 1140-42 S. THIRD ST.

We Specialize in Ladies' Suits, Dresses, Gloves, Velvets, Silks, Laces, Feathers and Men's Wearing Apparel.

AUTO WILL CALL FOR AND DELIVER ALL WORK
AS NEAR YOU AS YOUR PHONE

SOUTH 2362 OR CITY

QUALITY AND SERVICE

DON'T FORGET THAT

Gray-Von Allmen

Sanitary Milk Co.

INCORPORATED.

IS THE HOME OF PURE MILK
"ASK YOUR GROCERS."

CANDIES

JEFFERSON SWEET SHOP

(The House of Mirrors)

JEFFERSON THEATER BUILDING

AMERICAN CUT-RATE TOBACCO STORES

INCORPORATED

CIGARS

TOBACCO

SODAS

LUMBER

JONES & CO.

INCORPORATED

BROOK AND A STS.

FOR YOUR NEWS

LUMBER

JONES & CO.

INCORPORATED

BROOK AND A STS.

QUALITY

LUMBER

JONES & CO.

INCORPORATED

BROOK AND A STS.

LUMBER

JONES & CO.

INCORPORATED

BROOK AND A STS.

LUMBER

JONES & CO.

INCORPORATED

BROOK AND A STS.

LUMBER

JONES & CO.

- VISITATION HOME CAMPAIGN -

$150,000.00

EVERY NEEDY WORKING GIRL IS GOING TO HAVE A GOOD HOME.

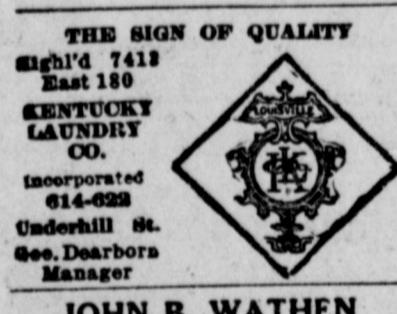

FRANK A. GEHER, Chairman.

RELIABLE GUIDE FOR CAREFUL BUYERS

Readers of the Kentucky Irish American are earnestly urged to patronize advertisers whose announcements they find in these columns. We aim to protect our readers by accepting only firms of known responsibility.

MACARONI SPAGHETTI EGG NOODLES PEN DENNIS
A. ENGELHARD & SONS CO. Inc.

Turkish Baths-- Crescent Hotel--
GET FIT—Health Is Your Greatest Asset—KEEP FIT
408 WEST WALNUT.

A Pair of GLASSES
will bring CHEER
to FATHER or MOTHER

Consult
DR. JOHN P. BECKER

OPTOMETRIST.

315 Starks Building, Third Floor
Fourth and Walnut
Phone City 1150

PRICES THE LOWEST

THE FOUR BEST SELLERS IN KENTUCKY

Blue Ribbon Twist—O. K. Twist
War Hawk Twist—Dixie Twist
"Made Where Tobacco Grows."

John D. Moore Tobacco Co.
Incorporated

LOUISVILLE — KENTUCKY
General Offices 412 Lincoln Building
Cumberland Phone: Main 120.

Mark Sales, Pres.
J. G. Jacobs, Sec. and Treas.

I. GRAUMAN & CO.
Incorporated

Dealers In All Kinds of Office and Store Fixtures, Safes, Cash Registers,
Shops, Restaurants, Cafeterias,
Shelving, Stacks, Counters,

510 WEST MAIN STREET
Home Phone, City 1228

WHEN IT'S YOUR MOVE
Both
Phone
Both
Phone

LET US KNOW!

Local and long distance moving with motor vans. Furniture, packing and shipping. All work guaranteed. Estimated cheerfully furnished free of charge.

A. ARNOLD & SONS
AUCTION & STORAGE CO.
(Incorporated)
425 West Main Street

NATIONAL HATTERS

325 WEST JEFFERSON STREET
DYERS AND CLEANERS

CALL FOR AND DELIVER

Home Phone, City 1931

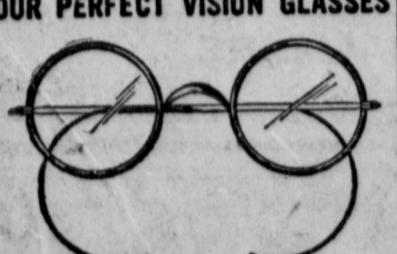

Home Phone 2556

Louis A. Broring, D. D. S.

DENTIST

900-901 STARKS BUILDING.

OUR PERFECT VISION GLASSES

Relieve Headaches, Weak Eyes, Dizziness, Distorted Vision, etc., and make Reading, Sewing or Close
Work a pleasure.

Our Graduate Optometrist will make a careful scientific examination of your eyes and guarantee
Correct and Comfortable Glasses.

Our Club Plan enables you to obtain the best glasses on a small cash deposit and pay the balance in convenient weekly payments.

NO COLLECTORS—NO RED TAPE!

KING OPTICAL COMPANY

Eyesight Specialists
1134 West Market Street,
Next Door to Zoll's Shoe Store.

FRED ERHART

ARCHITECT

NORTON BUILDING
N. W. Corner Fourth and Jefferson

They work like a charm.
Every box sold to satisfy or your money refunded.

For Sale by Your Druggist in 25-cent packages.

Dr. Uriah Z. Litsey
Chiropractor
507
Starks
Building
Both Phones

ingrown and Abnormal Nails Scientifically Treated

J. C. BROWN & CO.

TRY Shawnee
LIVER PILLS
"THE PILL THAT WILL"
PUT UP ONLY BY
HELMER & CO.,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

At a most enjoyable luncheon at the Tyler Hotel on Thursday, under the auspices of the War Mothers of Louisville, and at which Gen. Sumnerall was the guest of honor, there was an enthusiastic opening of the drive for members. This organization is rapidly increasing its strength everywhere, and all mothers of those who saw service in the late war are invited to become members.

Minstrels and Vaudeville

UNDER AUSPICES OF THE

Vernon Club of St. Joseph's Parish

Sunday Matinee and Night, Feb. 8

Monday Night, Feb. 9

Curtain rises at 8:15 P. M. Admission 50c. Reserved seats 15c extra.

Phone to St. Joseph's Rectory for reservations.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS
President C. Morrow Vaughan
Wholesale Grocer.
Vice President J. B. Fritz
Manager National Grocer Company, Louisville, Ky.
Secretary W. B. Mann
Wholesale Grocery Brokerage.
General Manager and Treasurer J. N. Grant
President Kentucky Brokerage Co., Louisville, Ky.
Director A. Wurtele
Gardener and Farmer.

LOUISVILLE CONSERVE COMPANY

Incorporated under the laws of Delaware

CAPITALIZATION

Non-assessable Stock

5,000 shares 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $50.00
5,000 shares Common Stock, no expressed par value

No Bonds

Registrar and Transfer Agent Louisville National Banking Co.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

The proceeds of this issue will be used for the purpose of establishing a modern fruit and vegetable canning factory to be located at Highland Park, near Louisville, Kentucky, on the L. & N. R. R.

LOUISVILLE HAS NO CANNING FACTORY

The horticultural district around the city has long called for such an enterprise, and the location of this city with reference to the supply of both farm and garden products, shipping facilities and markets, is a decided advantage to a canning factory.

It is estimated that approximately 2,000,000 cases of food products, packed in tins and glass containers, are shipped into Louisville yearly, which, at an average price of $3.00 per case, amounts to $6,000,000.00.

The Company has experienced management and contemplates starting a plant of sufficient capacity to put out 2,000 daily, or 600,000 cases annually, which, at an average price of $3.00 per case, will amount to $1,800,000.00, 3% on which would pay 6% on $150,000.00 of the Preferred Stock and leave a balance of $45,000.00 to accrue to the benefit of the Common Stock.

WE OFFER SUBJECT TO PRIOR SALE THE UNSOLD PORTION OF 3,000 SHARES OF THE SIX PER CENT. CUMULATIVE PREFERRED STOCK.

AT $50.00 PER SHARE

$ 100.00 buys	2 Shares of Preferred Stock and	1 Share of Common Stock
200.00 buys	4 Shares of Preferred Stock and	2 Shares of Common Stock
300.00 buys	6 Shares of Preferred Stock and	3 Shares of Common Stock
400.00 buys	8 Shares of Preferred Stock and	4 Shares of Common Stock
500.00 buys	10 Shares of Preferred Stock and	5 Shares of Common Stock
1,000.00 buys	20 Shares of Preferred Stock and	10 Shares of Common Stock
5,000.00 buys	100 Shares of Preferred Stock and	50 Shares of Common Stock

Date 1920

R. I. NUGENT & CO.

502 Inter-Southern Building

Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed find my check for $ _____ in payment for _____ Shares of the 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock, Par Value $50 per share, and _____ Shares of the Common Stock of the LOUISVILLE CONSERVE COMPANY. Kindly mail certificates to me at _____

ONE SHARE OF THE COMMON STOCK, PAID UP AND NON-AS-SESSABLE, WILL BE GIVEN AS A BONUS WITH EACH $100.00 OF
THE PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASED.

SUCCESS FAVORS THE ENTERPRISE THAT IS URGENTLY NEEDED

R. I. NUGENT & CO.

Propositions on Application

SUITE 502 INTER-SOUTHERN BLDG.

Main 2238 Phones City 4512

City 4512

LOUISVILLE, KY.

City 4512

